

Walla Walla High School

September 4, 2008

Dear Sirs:

Walla Walla High School has introduced a new incentive program for students and staff. It is called Pride in Excellence Program. The goal of the program is to recognize students who demonstrate academic excellence, attendance, citizenship and improvements. In addition, we want to recognize staff for their dedication to the students.

Your involvement in these efforts would be greatly appreciated. Not only would it be an example of your support for education, but also, it would illustrate to the community of Walls Walla your enthusiasm for a job well done.

Your tax deductible donation to Walla Walla High School's Pride in Excellence Program will be advertised to our students, their families, staff, and the community at large. Additionally, you will receive a Certificate of Appreciation that you will want to proudly display at your place of business.

On behalf of the students and staff at Walla Walla High School, I appreciate your willingness to consider participating with other local businesses as we congratulate excellence in education.

Sincerely,

Mira Gobel
